SEVENTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
London Society for Teaching the Blind to Read,

TRAINING THEM IN INDUSTRIAL OCCUPATIONS,

(ESTABLISHED 1838.)

"Technical Classes" (Secondary Education).)*

Patron—

HIS MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE KING.

THE Executive Committee beg herewith to submit to the Governors the Seventy-first Annual Report, being the statement of proceedings for the year 1908, together with the accounts of the Society for that year.

A comparative statement of the receipts from the main sources of income for the past three years follows :

		1908.		1907.		1906.
Subscriptions	...	415 0 0		426 0 0*		451 0 0
Donations	...	196 0 0		67 0 0		244 0 0

As ever, the financial position has been the subject throughout the year of anxious consideration. It will be noted that there have again been decreases in the subscriptions and donations compared with 1906—a normal year. The School has, however, been fairly well served with legacies left by good and charitable sympathisers who have been moved to compassion by the misfortunes of the blind. A fall in subscriptions and donations is but very insufficiently replaced by the addition to the income of the Society of a small grant (last year £55 only) from the Board of Education. A thoroughly mistaken idea is apparently entertained by some—and it has been expressed even by certain regular subscribers—that the need for voluntary assistance passes with the commencement of State aid. Nothing could be less correct.

*In the year 1907 there was a Festival Dinner which produced a sum of £1,337, and thus helped to make up the deficiency which had been accumulating.

The Committee desire to point out :—

1. That the labour of the Blind must always be discounted in the open markets, and that the Industrial Department—an indispensable adjunct to our work—involves a constant annual loss.

2. That if our pupils are to be adequately prepared for a difficult and arduous life in the world the Committee must have at their disposal funds with which to deal even generously with the needs of those passing through the Institution.

3. That there are no less than 40 pupils in the School who are maintained and educated entirely free, without contribution to our funds from any source.

4. That the Education Grant is very small, probably one-eighth of the total cost incurred for each pupil, and hardly covers the cost of the education of the pupil (in respect of whom it is paid), for one term out of three, thus leaving the rest of the education and the whole of the establishment and boarding expenses unprovided for.

5. That even when payments are made by Boards of Guardians or education authorities such payments barely cover the cost of maintenance only, and that these payments are the highest which can be obtained.

Moreover it is an undoubted fact that the Blind as a class cannot successfully compete with the sighted in the open markets of the world, and the Committee anxiously look forward to the time when every boy or girl who has passed through the School may be encouraged throughout life to resort to the School for protection and assistance. This means amongst other things that, after they have left and from time to time, pupils finding themselves unable to secure work in their home districts should be able to apply to the School for orders to manufacture baskets and other articles, and so to earn something until work comes again. The School would not only pay the former pupil wages for the work done, but would also have to find a market for the goods manufactured, involving a certain small loss on every order given, but the Committee feel confident that the class of Blind passing through their schools cannot, for the reasons stated, become independent, and until the time comes when funds are forthcoming which will enable the Committee to subsidise the labour of their former pupils as above indicated, there is very great danger of their failure in the struggle for existence, when much of the time and money spent on their early training would be entirely lost. It is obvious that temporary assistance will often tide over a bad season until work comes again and if such blind people are left to themselves at such seasons, and failure overtakes them, it is infinitely more difficult, nay, often impossible, to recover from that failure.

There is yet another scheme which the Committee are anxiously looking forward to start, and that is an Augmentation Fund, out of which the old members of the staff and the most deserving of the old pupils of the School may be assisted.

Put very briefly, these are the reasons for asking for voluntary assistance. They are sound, and the Committee have every confidence that they will carry conviction to all who hesitate as to the giving or renewing of a subscription to our funds.

The Livery Companies of the City of London have again given generously, and the following donations attest their liberality :—

"	"	Cordwainers ...	5	5	0
"	"	Drapers ...	10	10	0
"	"	Skinners ...	10	10	0
"	"	Saddlers ...	5	5	0
"	"	Carpenters (Annual) ...	5	5	0
"	"	Salters (Annual) ...	10	10	0

A grant of £30 has been received from the Gardner's Trust, in aid of the Educational and Structural alterations made during the year.

The Administrative work of the Committee has been improved and facilitated by the appointment of four standing committees :—(1) “Education,” (2) “Fabric and Industrial,” (3) “Finance,” (4) “House,” each of which now meets once monthly at least, and reports to the Executive. In this connection it should be recorded that most valuable assistance and advice has been rendered by the ladies who now serve as working members of the Executive. It is largely due to them that progress has been made with the “Aftercare” of our pupils, with whom the Committee now endeavour to keep constantly in touch after they leave the School.

The internal arrangements of the building have been much improved, the workshops are better lighted and ventilated, greater facilities have been provided for dealing with danger from fire, additional but necessary hot and cold water service has been supplied, and the infirmaries and organ-room are now adequately heated by anthracite stoves. The appearance of the School has been greatly changed for the better by alterations in the front garden and by the erection of handsome wrought-iron gates, the generous gift of Mr. F. O. Smithers (Deputy Chairman).

Certain valuable improvements, repairs, and additions have been made during the past year to the school premises and plant. New floors and new desks—replacing the old-fashioned and inconvenient desks previously in use—have been supplied in both schoolrooms. Certain special funds (arising from a legacy for the benefit of Institutions for the Blind generally), have been placed at the disposal of the Committee, out of which a complete set of Swedish gymnastic apparatus has been installed in the Great Hall. A boys' teacher and a girls' teacher have received special training at the Swedish Gymnasium, and regular instruction on this system is now given to our pupils, whose physical development is now cared for in the best possible manner. Better systematic instruction is now secured for pupils over sixteen by the formation of Day Technical Classes under the Board of Education Regulations for Secondary Schools. These classes provide graded instruction in technical subjects adapted to the requirements of the pupils, while their general education is continued by advanced teaching in literature and other subjects.

The whole question of the teaching of Music has been thoroughly considered. Music is now taught systematically only to those pupils who show, after a careful and prolonged trial of all, sufficient aptitude to benefit by regular instruction, and to whom Music may become a means of livelihood. The standard, both of instruction and attainment, has been raised, and for the first time in the history of the school two of our pupils entered for the examination of the Royal College of Organists. Of these, H. H. Berridge was entirely successful and obtained the Associateship, while A. W. Hayhow passed the Theory Examination, and will again enter for the Practice Examination, in which he failed by three marks only.

It need hardly be said that the changes recorded in the preceding paragraphs have involved considerable expense. The Committee mean to place the School to the forefront of the Blind Schools of this country, and if this is to be done such necessary expense must be incurred.

The School is now (being certified by the Board of Education) able to receive pupils from Local Education Authorities which possess no schools of their own. Seven such pupils are now with us and the admission of others is under consideration. Such pupils are admitted at an early age, and we are thus able to give them a prolonged course of systematic training until they reach the age of sixteen.

Every endeavour has been made to maintain and extend the Industrial Department—certainly not the least important part of our work. The formation of the Day Technical Classes mentioned above has enabled more thorough training to be given to beginners, and the Committee rejoice to note an increase in the actual amount of work done in the Basket Department of about £150. The woolwork done by the girls brought in a profit of £20. In embossing, unfortunately, receipts have somewhat decreased. Orders are very earnestly solicited for all classes of work, including the Pianoforte Tuning and Typewriting Departments.

A gratifying testimonial was lately given to the efficiency of our Typewriting—the successful candidate for a valuable scholarship retained the services of one of our blind typists to type his competing essay, and was informed by the examiner that this essay was the best type-written of all sent in.

The pupils (resident and day) for 1908 numbered 77 in all—47 boys and 30 girls.

Former pupils have in the past year secured appointments and employment. Amongst others are the following:—

Frederick L. Garde, appointed Scripture Reader to the Blind in Jersey.

Robert Bunyan, employed as Basket Maker in Frimley.

Sarah E. Hughes, employed in Music Teaching and Knitting.

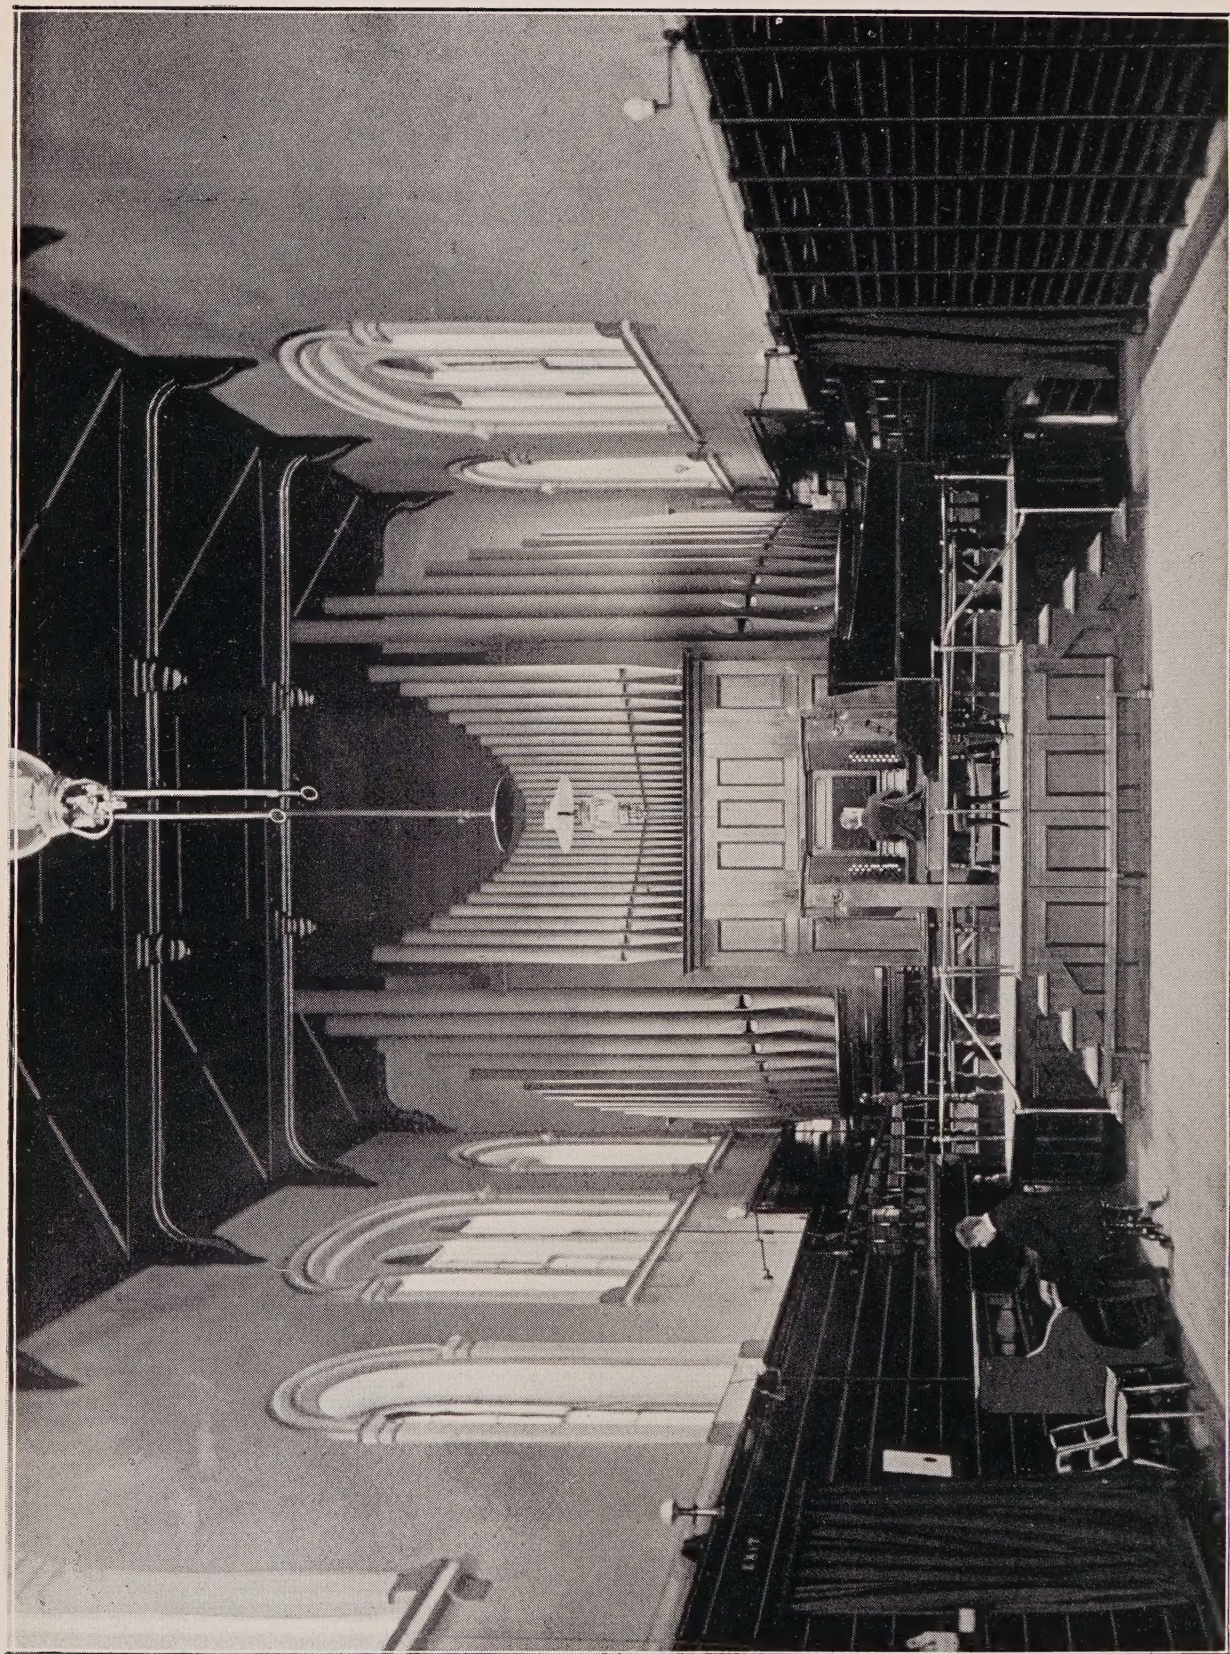

Daisy E. Morris, being instructed in Massage under Dr. Fletcher Little.

The Annual Appeal from the pulpit of St. Paul's, Avenue Road, N.W., by the Rev. Dr. H. Bury (now Bishop of British Honduras), produced £38 11s. 2d.

The Annual Bazaar and Sale of Work held on December 5th and 6th resulted in a profit of £85 14s. 3d.

The deaths of the following generous friends and supporters of the School are regretfully recorded:—W. Atkinson, Esq., E. Bird Foster, Esq., Mrs. Guiterman, Miss Burdon Sanderson, Mrs. F. O. Smithers, Barclay F. Watson, Esq., Mrs. D. Barry, W. F. Malcolm, Esq.

The following is the report of the examiner in Scripture:—

The Concert Hall.

SCRIPTURE.

"I have examined the various divisions of the School in Scripture, and am satisfied that the instruction given has been intelligent and careful. Many of both the boys and girls answered with great readiness and accuracy, and showed a clear grasp of the meaning of what they had read.

(Signed) REV. G. A. FORD

(Vicar of St. Paul's, Avenue Road, N.W.)."

REPORT OF EXAMINATION IN MUSIC.

"Seven candidates were entered for Piano Playing and two for Organ Playing. In both subjects the general preparation had been excellent. A good system of technique with muscular training of fingers and wrists is evident in all the pupils, the only stiff fingers were those of a victim of chilblains. There were some slips in the time, but the musical expression, phrasing, and finish of the pieces were good, and only one student showed unnecessary nervousness.

"One candidate (Arthur Baxter) showed special taste in his performance, the 'Tone Poetry' being remarkable, and much in advance of his technical work. The playing of the girl (Queenie Thomas) showed much promise, and her neat touch and correct certainty were very noticeable. The two pupils, A. Goose and H. Wilson, were so close in marks that they are especially deserving of commendation.

"The organ pieces were well remembered, and evinced an amount of patient teaching and careful study which reflects the greatest credit on both teachers and pupils.

"The theoretical questions have been well answered, especially by the advanced candidates, and this in spite of the wording being evidently unusual, and on rather different lines to those on which the candidates are trained; but the work, as compared with that of the average of ordinary musical examinations, is good, and well up to the usual pass standard as far as the students have gone in these subjects.

"The special difficulties of the Braille Notation appear to have been cleverly overcome by the teacher, and the students are evidently working in the right direction in all the musical subjects.

BOARD OF EDUCATION REPORT.

"It is very gratifying to note the improvements which have taken place in the Institution since it first came under review a year and a half ago. The premises have been put into repair where necessary, additional provision has been made for light and warmth, a new Swedish gymnasium has been fitted up, which will go far to establish a satisfactory system of physical culture in the School; and a new fire-escape in the girls' dormitory has also been provided. In the administration of the School the Staff has been strengthened by the inclusion of a Certificated Mistress on the girls' side, and by many beneficial changes in curriculum, among which may be mentioned the reorganisation of the teaching of Music and of Physical Exercises.

"The children are always responsive and bright, and give evidence of thorough and satisfactory training in both boys' and girls' departments.

"The Committee are fully alive to the need for further expansion, and are giving constant thought and effort to the problem of the welfare of the Blind of every stage of life. They are fully prepared to go forward cautiously, according to the measure of sympathy given to their work, which, though supported from public sources, can only reach its final goal through private support."

May 3rd, 1909.

The following extract from a letter on behalf of those interested in the success in life of a pupil who left during 1908, affords a convincing proof of the admirable nature of the work done. Robert Bunyan lost his sight through exposure in South Africa during the war and came to us as an adult for training, being unable to do anything for a living. He was entirely trained by the Society in their School:—"Robert Bunyan is doing very well. Everyone is pleased with his work, and we think the School has done wonders for him—changed him from a hopeless, despairing man, into one able to hold his own and help to keep his family. Ever since he has been earning he has brightened up wonderfully. We are more than pleased with the instruction he got at your School. His work is really good and it is worth buying, so that one has not to ask people to take it as a charity."

Many good friends of the Blind have assisted the Committee during the year by voluntary services, both in connection with the Bazaar and Sale of Work, and by entertainments and gifts to the pupils. To all these, as also to the Examiners the Hon. Officials and the Auditors, and to the Ladies who have acted as Music and General Readers, the Committee offer very grateful thanks for themselves and for our boys and girls.

Enough has been said to show that funds are urgently needed, and the Committee again appeal for generous financial support, to enable them to carry on the existing work and go forward in bringing the Schools and Workshops up to the highest standard of modern possibilities and requirements.

In all humility, the Committee express the hope that their work will meet with approval and support, not merely for the sake of charity, but because it means the development of the Spiritual side of those to whom wisdom is "at one entrance quite shut out." A cause is here maintained higher than that of education for practical life only, and those who help our Schools, if only with the encouragement of sympathy, may well feel that they render a Religious service in the best sense of the word.

THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING
 OF THE
 LONDON SOCIETY
 FOR TEACHING THE BLIND TO READ, AND FOR
 TRAINING THEM IN INDUSTRIAL OCCUPATIONS,
 WAS HELD IN THE CONCERT HALL AT THE INSTITUTION,
 ON TUESDAY, APRIL 27TH, 1909.

SIR WILLIAM COLLINS, M.D., M.P. (VICE-CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON), IN THE CHAIR.

Among those present were Lady Collins, Mrs. Metzler, Mrs. Heberden, Mrs. Hobson, Miss de Hamel, Sir Richard B. Martin, General G. F. Pengelley, Mr. F. O. Smithers (Deputy Chairman), Messrs. P. W. Chandler, A. S. Barham, T. F. Hobson, E. Metzler, Capt. R. Ellis, W. Spiller, H. Stainsby, Thos. H. Martin (Secretary), and others.

The Notice convening the Meeting was read by the Secretary as follows :—

“LONDON SOCIETY FOR TEACHING THE BLIND, SWISS COTTAGE, N.W. Founded 1838. Patron: His Majesty the King. President: The Hon. Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of London.

“The 71st Annual General Meeting of the Governors and Subscribers of the Institution will be held in the Concert Hall of the Institution on Tuesday, April 27th, at 4.30 p.m.

“The Chair will be taken by Sir William J. Collins, M.D., M.P. (Vice-Chancellor of the University of London).

“Distribution of prizes to the pupils by Lady Collins at the close of the Meeting.

“Instrumental music and singing by the pupils.

“All persons interested in the welfare of the Blind are cordially invited.

“THOS. H. MARTIN, Secretary.”

Sir William Collins, in moving that the Annual Report, printed copies of which were in the hands of those present, be adopted, printed, and circulated, said :—

“It is a very great pleasure to me to accept the invitation of your Deputy Chairman, Mr. Smithers, for my wife and myself to take part in this the 71st Annual General Meeting of this valuable Institution. I must say that for many years, for 25 or 30 years, it has been my lot to be associated in Hospitals and Public Institutions with the work of preventing and curing blindness, and with the education of those who are, unfortunately, afflicted with blindness. This is not the first time I have visited this Institution, but I am glad to know that since the last time I was here many improvements have been effected in the education of the blind by means provided by the generosity of many benefactors. This Institution was founded in 1838, and therefore belongs to the period known as the early Victorian era. Its long career was cotemporaneous with the reign of her late Majesty the Queen, and that long reign saw many changes in education and public health and local government, all of which questions have had a practical relation to the care and education of the blind. The care and education of the blind have seen many changes ; at first they were undertaken entirely by voluntary agencies. Then their necessity was recognized by public bodies ; now it is the duty of Local Authorities to undertake this work, or to assist by contributions from the public funds Institutions for this purpose. Since Local Authorities came to deal with the education of the normal child, they have had to go on and deal with the education of the abnormal child—those who are physically or mentally defective. Eleven per thousand are so defective, and one per thousand is afflicted either with blindness or with deafness. The Royal Commission of 1889 found that 800 per million of the population were afflicted with blindness. There are three classes of persons afflicted with blindness :—those who are born blind ; those who become blind a few weeks after birth ; and those who become blind in after life. Thirty per cent. of the cases of those born blind are traceable to ophthalmia, one of the most preventable diseases which afflict the newly-born. Ophthalmia is gradually becoming less frequent, owing to the better arrangements that have been made for attention to lying-in cases, and to the better training of midwives, while Trachoma is regarded nowadays largely as an exotic rather than an indigenous disease. The most melancholy cases of blindness are of those who become blind after youth and education are over.

“Not more than one-fifth of the blind are able to maintain themselves, and the remaining four-fifths are unable to do so. The education of the blind is more costly than the education of an ordinary pupil, and the return upon that education is less. As a class, the blind cannot successfully compete with the sighted in the open markets of the world, and, therefore, voluntary assistance and public aid are necessary for the support of such an Institution as this. This Institution, it should be borne in mind, is not only a school, but it is also a sort of Alma Mater, a rallying-place whither the pupils can return, and which will in after life take an interest in them. By Act of Parliament, the age for the education of the blind is from 5 to 16 years—that is longer than in the case of the sighted—and now, by Act of Parliament, also it is the duty of the Local Authority to secure the education of the blind in a properly certified school, and certain grants are made by the State—grants which the Managers of such an Institution as this say are all too niggardly and parsimonious. The public are anxious now that the lot of the blind should never again be what it once was. Not only in handicrafts, such as chair-caning, basket-making, and piano-tuning, are they to be taught, but in music some are able to exhibit great power and originality. Others learn shorthand, typewriting, and massage, and they also qualify as teachers of the blind, in which last vocation they are most capable and not the least sympathetic, and they are often the best guides, philosophers, and friends of their fellow-sufferers.

“This Institution was situated in Bloomsbury, and came here in 1848. It has always moved with the times. At first reading was taught by the Lucas method, and afterwards the Braille system was introduced, and the Committee are always ready to adopt improved methods.

“The Institution has benefited by the Gardner’s Trust, and it owes a great deal to the Chairman, Mr. E. K. Blyth (hear, hear), who I am sorry is not able to be with us to-day; and not less to the Deputy Chairman, Mr. F. O. Smithers, whose heart is always in his work and whose hand is always in his pocket. Mr. Smithers’ work for the Boys’ Home and for this Institution shows how deep is his concern for the welfare of the community, and how much is due to his sympathy, guidance, and support. (Applause).

“In this School I am happy to know you have no religious difficulty. (Applause). Every religious persuasion is catered for, and instruction is given at suitable hours to each child in the faith of its parents. I am glad to know that ladies have been admitted to the Executive Committee of this Institution, and that it is unanimously recognized that their services have been valuable to the conduct of the Institution.

“In looking through the Report I notice one or two cases of striking success of your scholars. Two of the pupils entered for the examination of the Royal College of Organists ; H. H. Berridge was entirely successful, and obtained the Associateship, while A. W. Hayhow passed the theory examination, and will again enter for the practice examination, in which he failed by 3 marks only, and further on in the Report I read :—

“ ‘ The following extract from a letter on behalf of those interested in the success in life of a pupil who left during 1908, affords a convincing proof of the admirable nature of the work done. “ Robert Bunyan is doing well. Everyone is pleased with his work, and we think the School has done wonders for him, changed him from a hopeless, despairing man into one able to hold his own and help to keep his family. Ever since he has been earning he has brightened up wonderfully. We are more than pleased with the instruction he got at your School. His work is really good, and one has not to ask people to take it as a charity.” Robert Bunyan came to the School as an adult, having lost his sight through exposure in the South African War, and was entirely trained as a day pupil by this Society. ’

“ I rejoice to see that your work is resulting in helping the pupils to become independent members of the community. I cordially wish you all success in this work. I congratulate you on past results. I hope that voluntary help will be forthcoming, and that it will not be less because the State has become reconciled to the opinion that its aid should be given to such Institutions. I hope voluntary agencies will still take their part, and that even better results will be attained than have been attained during these seventy years by this most philanthropic and benevolent work." (Applause).

Mr. F. O. Smithers, in seconding the motion, said he would like to draw the attention of the Meeting to the reference in the Report to the starting of an Augmentation Fund. That fund would enable them to help their pupils when they left the school.

The Report was adopted.

On the motion of Sir Richard B. Martin, seconded by the Rev. G. A. Ford, the following ladies and gentlemen were elected members of the Committee for the ensuing year:—Mrs. Blyth, Mrs. Heberden, Mrs. Hobson, Mrs. Metzler, Miss de Hamel, Miss F. MacLaren, Mr. E. K. Blyth, Mr. F. O. Smithers, Gen. G. F. Pengelley, Mr. F. E. F. Barham, Mr. A. S. Barham, Mr. Arthur Ball, Mr. P. W. Chandler, Capt. R. Ellis, Mr. T. F. Hobson, Mr. Ernest Metzler, Mr. H. Stainsby, Mr. W. Spiller, Dr. Roger-Smith, Dr. W. G. Walford.

It was proposed by Mr. H. T. Rogers, and seconded by Mr. A. Garden, "That Sir Henry Harben, J.P., D.L., and Mr. A. C. Harper, F.C.A., be, and are hereby appointed, Auditors for the ensuing year." This was carried unanimously.

Mrs. Heberden then proposed, and Mr. T. F. Hobson seconded, "That a vote of thanks be given to the Rev. G. A. Ford, M.A., and to E. Joseph Chadfield, Esq., Mus. Bac., for the valuable work they have done in examining the pupils." The Rev. G. A. Ford replied in suitable words.

Mr. T. F. Hobson proposed, and Mr. E. Metzler seconded, "That Rule 23 be altered, the age of 7 being substituted in each case for the age of 8." This was carried.

Lady Collins then distributed the prizes to the pupils, adding a few cheering words to each pupil.

Gen. G. F. Pengelley proposed, and Mr. P. W. Chandler seconded, "That a very cordial vote of thanks be given to Sir William Collins, M.D., M.P., for presiding at the Meeting, and to Lady Collins for distributing the prizes." This was carried with acclamation. Sir William Collins briefly replied.

An old pupil—the first pupil to enter the school in 1848, Mr. T. H. Hooper—gave a short account of the advantages which the education received at the school had been to him.

A short and excellent programme of music, contributed by the pupils, concluded the Meeting.

HISTORY OF THE SOCIETY.

The Institution was founded in January, 1838, in consequence of Mr. Lucas, of Bristol, coming to London accompanied by some pupils taught to read upon his system. The great ease with which the pupils read caused so much admiration that at a meeting held at the local schoolroom, Baldwin's Gardens, it was decided to found a Society for teaching the Blind to read by that system. The Society from the first had the advantage of royal favour. Her late Most Gracious Majesty the Queen graciously consented to become a Patron of it, and her example was followed by other members of the Royal Family and many of the Nobility, who became Patrons or Subscribers, while the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of London kindly accepted the office of President.

The School commenced as a Day School in Fitzroy Street in 1838, and was shortly after removed to 6 Gloucester Street, Queen's Square, Bloomsbury, where Resident Pupils were admitted on payment.

Though the School was originally intended for the purpose of teaching reading only, other branches of education were introduced in 1840, and, in addition to these subjects, Music and Industrial Work, such as Basket-making, Knitting, Netting, &c.

A Department was also started to emboss the Scriptures and secular books in Lucas's system, for which in 1842 a special fund was started, thereby enabling the Committee to supply schools in other parts of the kingdom—also in India, China, and our Colonies—with books at a moderate charge.

In 1842 the increase in the number of applicants induced the Committee to take a larger house, and the Institution was removed to 38 Queen's Square.

In 1845 the lease of the premises in Queen's Square having nearly expired, and the building not being altogether suitable for the then purposes of the Society, while the number of applicants was very numerous, a subscription was set on foot for the erection of a building suitable for its special requirements. In 1847 the lease of the present site (Upper Avenue Road, Swiss Cottage, N.W.) was obtained at a rent of £70 per annum for ninety-six years, which annual payment was redeemed in 1860 for £1,400. Part of the present building was completed at a cost of £4,500, and on the 23rd March, 1848, the pupils were removed into the new building.

In 1864 the building was found inadequate for the Inmates, and was enlarged by two wings—the one on the south side

(to be used as a Printing Office with Dormitories above), the cost of which was defrayed by F. Green, Esq., and family, and the Concert Room on the north side by general contributions. The need for a new Dining Hall, Kitchens, Infirmary and Offices was found, in 1867, absolutely necessary, but, through want of funds, the additions were not able to be carried out till 1877, when Bath Rooms and extra Dormitories were also added, and the new premises were opened in 1878 at an outlay, including furnishing, of £4,297.

In 1887 a public road was formed through the grounds of the Institution. The Committee took this opportunity of enlarging the Concert Room and Organ; for the latter work the Gardner Trustees kindly gave a donation of £300. In the same year the sanitary arrangements were entirely remodelled, and outside iron staircases were erected, and hydrants with hoses attached placed in all the corridors of the building for safety of the inmates in case of fire.

In 1888 external workshops were added for the purpose of technical education for pupils and adults, and also for the provision of employment for them after their preliminary training.

The education in the Braille system, which has the advantage of being useful for writing as well as reading, was first introduced into the School in 1861 by Professor Hippolyte Van Landagen of the Belgian Institution, and Musical Notation by the same system in 1871. Taylor's Arithmetic by movable types was introduced in 1877 with great advantage to the pupils. In 1880, by the Will of the late H. Gardner, Esq., who had always been a great friend to the School, the Society was benefited by the munificent Legacy of £10,000, which was suitably invested in the names of the Trustees.

In 1854 it was decided to admit a certain number of free pupils annually by election of the Governors, annual subscribers of £1 1s. and Donors of £10 10s. being entitled to one vote (this has since been reduced to 10s. 6d. and £5 5s.) the election being for three years only, and requiring re-election after that time. This triennial Election was found to be a great expense and hardship to the poor parents, and it was decided in 1886 that this practice should be discontinued, and that the election should stand for nine years or until disqualified by age.

In 1892 practice rooms for teaching the art of tuning were erected in the boys' lower playground at a cost of £350, to which the Gardner Trust contributed £100.

In 1894 the increased development in the Industrial Department necessitated the erection of an additional workroom for the Girls at a cost of about £200, and also a small room for printing in the Braille type such school books as from time to time are required.

In 1898, the urgent need of many books of instruction in Braille having been brought before the annual meeting, it was decided to erect a room in the grounds for the purpose of printing and editing books in that system—more suitable than the small room already existing—which was done at a cost of about £200, towards which the Gardner Trust contributed £50.

In 1899 typewriting was introduced to afford further facilities for pupils after leaving the School, and four Remington machines were purchased. A Stainsby-Wayne Braille Shorthand Machine has since been added for use in conjunction with the Remington Typewriter, by means of which letters, &c., can be taken down from dictation at a very high rate of speed. An additional Remington machine—the gift of Dr. Walford—has since been added.

In 1900 a Stereotyping Machine was added to our Printing and Embossing plant, and has greatly facilitated the production of Braille books.

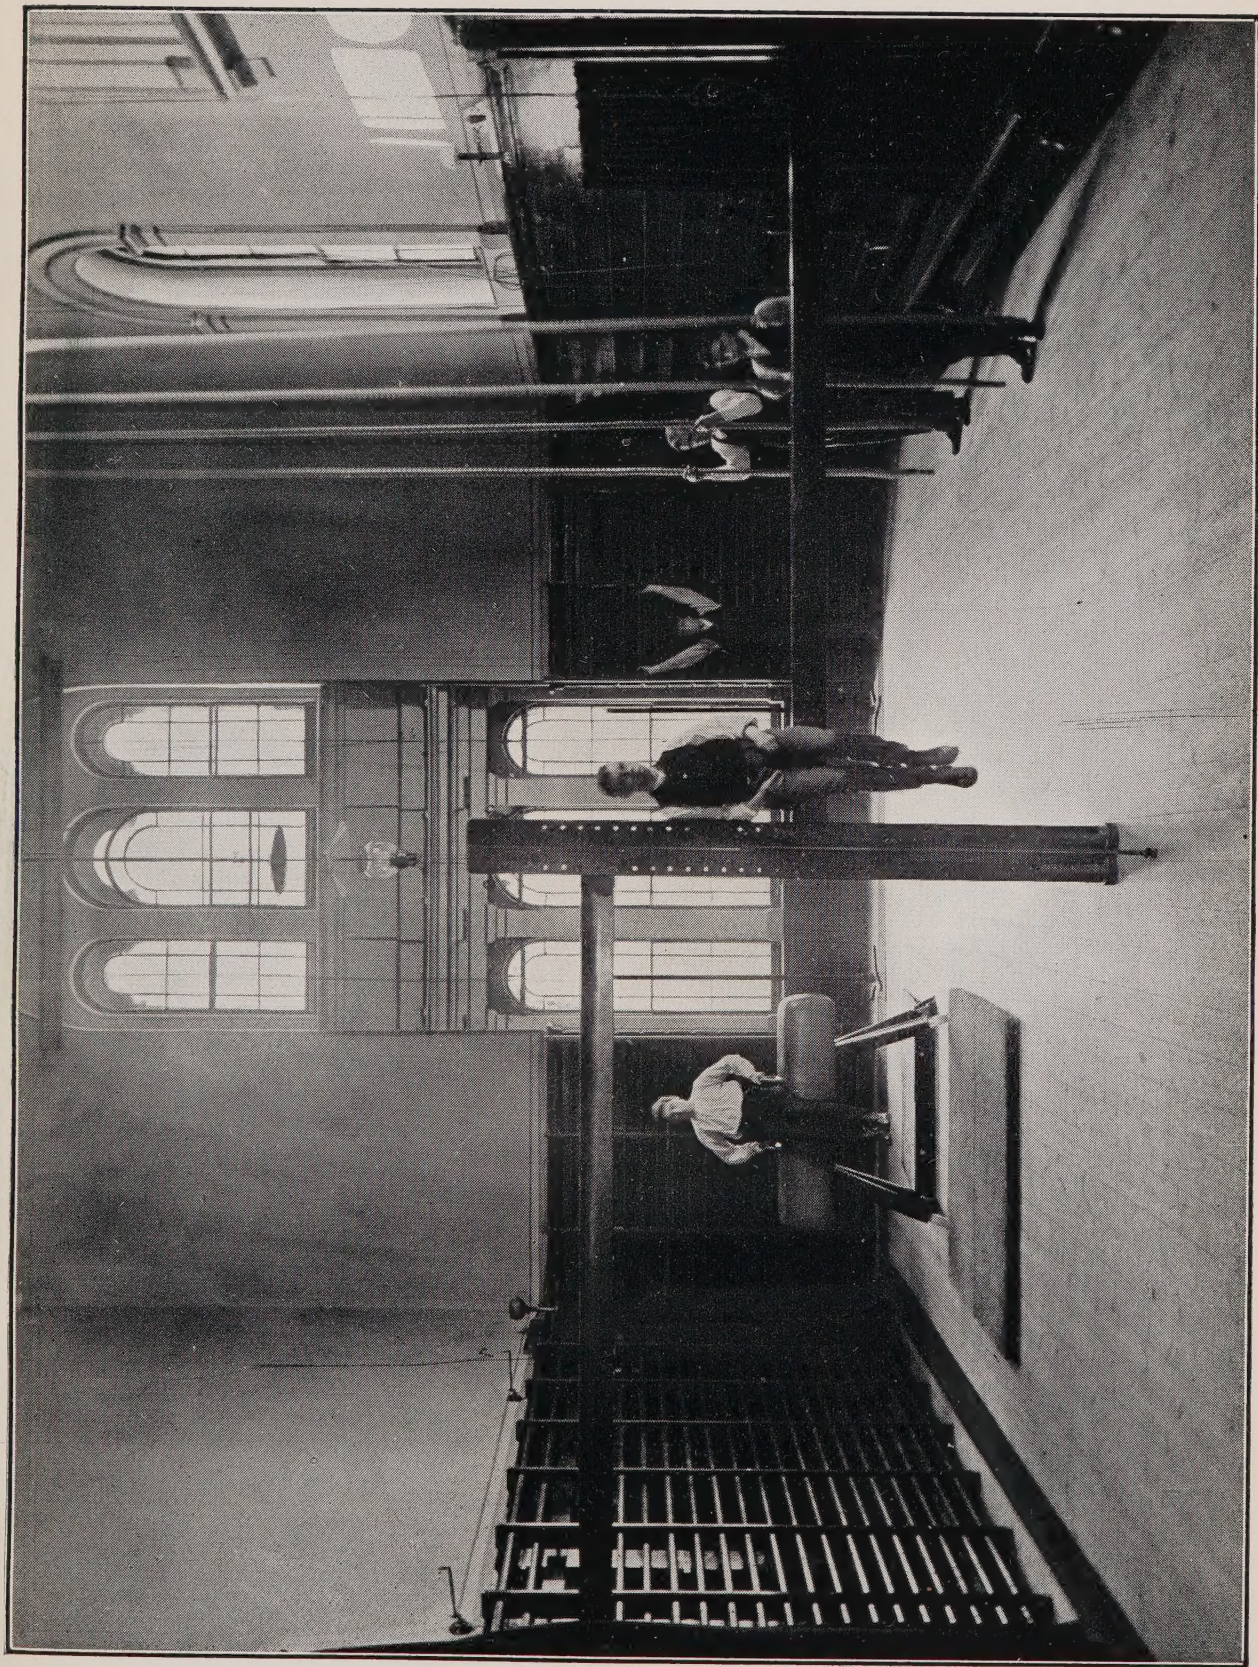

In 1907 the School became certified under the Elementary Education (Blind and Deaf Children) Act, 1893.

In 1908 “Technical Classes” were formed under the Board of Education’s regulations for Secondary Schools.

Handsome new wrought iron gates were presented by the Deputy Chairman (Mr. F. O. Smithers) in memory of his wife.

A Swedish Gymnasium was fitted up in the Concert Hall from funds left at the disposal of one of the Committee.

The Gymnasium.

Rules of the Society.

NAME OF THE SOCIETY.

1.—The Name of the Society shall be "THE LONDON SOCIETY FOR TEACHING THE BLIND TO READ, AND FOR TRAINING THEM IN INDUSTRIAL OCCUPATIONS."

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

2.—The objects of the Society shall be to maintain the School for the Blind, in the Upper Avenue Road, South Hampstead; to instruct the scholars there in reading by Lucas's, Braille's, or any other system which the Executive Committee may deem expedient; to instruct and train them in such other useful branches of education as may qualify them for industrial or professional occupations; to provide workshops and such other appliances as will enable them wholly or partially to support themselves thereby; and to assist, if the Executive Committee shall so determine, Schools established for any of the same purposes within five miles of St. Paul's Cathedral.

HONORARY OFFICERS.

3.—The Honorary Officers of the Society shall consist of a Patron, Vice-Patrons and Vice-Patronesses, President and Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, Secretary, Chaplain, Surgeon, and Solicitor, any or all of whom may be appointed by the Executive Committee, subject, nevertheless, to such appointments being confirmed at the next General Meeting of the Governors.

TRUSTEES.

4.—The Trustees shall be at least three in number, and shall be appointed by the Governors of the Society, either at the Annual General Meeting, or at a Special Meeting to be called for that purpose. They shall severally remain in office till death, resignation, or removal by the vote of a majority of not less than two-thirds of the Governors present, at a meeting specially convened for that purpose.

5.—They shall invest the monies of the Society in such one or more of the following securities as shall be from time to time directed by the Executive Committee, viz.:—British Government Funds, Bank Stock, India Stock, Debenture Stock of British Railway Companies, Preference Stock of British Railway Companies, which have for ten years then past paid dividends on their Ordinary Stocks, and Indian Railways guaranteed by the Indian Government, or such other stocks as may from time to time be sanctioned by the Legislature for the investment of Trust Funds.

6.—The property and effects of the Society shall be invested in the names of the Trustees.

GOVERNORS.

7.—Every annual subscriber of one guinea and upwards shall, during the continuance of his or her subscription, be a Governor of the Society, and every donor of £10 10s. or upwards, in one sum, shall be a Life Governor of the Society. Every Governor shall have the privilege of nominating one paying pupil annually to the School as a Day Scholar.

8.—The Annual General Meeting of the Governors shall be held in the month of April or May in each year, at such time and place as shall be fixed by the Executive Committee. At such meeting, the accounts and a statement of the proceedings for the past year, and any repeal or alteration, or proposed repeal or alteration, of the rules of the Society, shall be submitted.

9.—At that meeting the Governors shall elect from among their number an Executive Committee of not less than twelve or more than twenty-four, in whom all executive power (except such as is reserved to the Governors) shall be vested. They may also elect a Committee of not more than twelve ladies. These Committees shall remain in office until the election of their successors.

10.—The Governors shall also elect at such annual meeting two Auditors, one of whom shall be a Chartered Accountant, to audit the accounts of the current year.

11.—Special General Meetings may be convened by the Executive Committee, or upon a requisition, signed by at least twenty Governors of the Society; in the latter case thirty Governors shall be required to form a quorum.

12.—Seven days' notice of all General Meetings shall be given either by advertisement in not less than two London daily papers, or by notice sent by post to the Governors.

MEMBERS.

13.—Every annual subscriber of half a guinea shall, during the continuance of his or her subscription, be a Member of the Society, and every donor of £5 5s. in one sum shall be a Life Member. Members shall be entitled to vote in the election of pupils, but not at any general meetings of the Society.

PRIVILEGES OF GOVERNORS AND MEMBERS.

14.—Governors and Members shall be entitled to one vote at every election of Free Pupils for each half-guinea annually subscribed, and Life Governors and Life Members for each donation of five guineas.

15.—The first-named Executor of any Testator bequeathing to the Institution a sum of not less than £50 is entitled at each election to nine votes; the two first-named Executors of any Testator bequeathing a sum of not less than £100 shall each be entitled at every Election to nine votes, and the Executors of a Testator bequeathing the sum of £250 and upwards shall each be entitled to 15 votes. Ministers preaching or lending their pulpits, and collecting £10 10s. or upwards for the benefit of the Society, shall be entitled to one vote at each Election for every £10 10s. so collected. The Master or Chief Officer of any Corporation making a donation of £10 10s. and upwards shall be entitled for 20 years to two votes at each Election for every £10 10s. so subscribed; a firm making a similar donation in its corporate name shall be entitled to a like privilege. Ladies contributing to any Bazaar or Fancy Sale held on behalf of the Society articles which shall be sold for £10 10s. and upwards shall be entitled at each Election to one vote for life. All persons so contributing £10 10s. or upwards shall be entitled to the privilege of Life Governors.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

16.—The Executive Committee may make such regulations with respect to their meetings and proceedings as they may think fit, may appoint such Standing or other Sub-Committees as they may think fit, and may entrust to them such duties, and delegate to them such of their own powers as they shall determine, and may make such bye-laws for the management and regulation of the Institution as they may deem expedient. Each standing or other Sub-Committee may appoint their own Chairman.

17.—No member of any Committee shall, directly or indirectly, be interested in any contract with the Institution.

18.—The Executive Committee shall have the power of appointing and removing the Chaplain, Matron, Mistress, Master, Secretary, Collector, and other paid officers and servants of the Society, and fixing the terms and conditions of their engagements.

19.—The Executive Committee may, in the interval between Annual General Meetings, supply vacancies among themselves, and among the Honorary Officers and Auditors of the Society.

LADIES' COMMITTEE.

20.—The Ladies' Committee shall act as a Sub-Committee of and shall report their proceedings to the Executive Committee, by whom all regulations for the management of the Institution shall be sanctioned before permanent adoption. The Ladies' Committee may supply vacancies in their own body in the interval between the Annual General Meetings.

CHAPLAIN.

21.—The Chaplain must be a member of the Church of England and a Graduate of an University.

AUDITORS.

22.—The Auditors shall meet and audit the accounts of the Society up to the 31st of December in each year, and shall present their Report to the Executive Committee not later than 1st March.

PUPILS.

23.—The Pupils shall consist of Day Scholars and Resident Pupils. No Day Scholar shall be admitted under the age of seven. Resident Pupils shall be admitted, either free of charge or on payment, in such numbers and for such periods as shall be fixed from time to time by the Executive Committee. No Resident Pupil shall be admitted except between the ages of seven and seventeen if male, and between seven and twenty if female, except when otherwise ordered by the Executive Committee.

24.—Free Resident Pupils may be either elected by the votes of the Governors and Members, or nominated by a donor of £250 paid in one sum, such nominated Pupil to be received into the Institution on the first vacancy which shall arise after such donation, and the donor of such sum may, on the death or removal of such Free Pupil, nominate another, so that he or she may always have one Free Pupil at a time in the Institution during his or her life.

25.—The election of Free Resident Pupils shall be conducted at such times and subject to such regulations, as may be from time to time fixed by the Executive Committee.

26.—No vote shall be admitted from an Annual Subscriber whose subscription is in arrear at any election. Votes for unsuccessful Candidates shall be carried forward up to the third election.

27.—No inmate shall be required to receive religious instruction except from a Minister of his or her religious persuasion, but it shall be the duty of the Master or Mistress respectively to see that instruction is actually given; subject to this provision, the general superintendence of the religious instruction of such inmates shall be entrusted to the Chaplain or some other Clergyman of the Church of England chosen by the Executive Committee. Besides the ordinary family worship, there shall be certain hours set apart exclusively for religious instruction during every week, at the discretion of the Executive Committee. Any sick inmate not being a member of the Church of England may, at the request of his or her Parents or Guardians, be visited by a Minister of his or her own Denomination.

28.—The Pupils shall not be allowed to receive visitors, except between the hours of 11 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Saturdays, without the especial permission of the Matron.

AMENDMENT OF RULES.

29.—These rules shall only be altered, added to, or amended at a General Meeting, the notice for which shall specify the intention to propose such amendment.
